Introduction

Presentation of the project

This report provides information on the dissemination activities carried out by all the partners of the KA2 Erasmus+ CRxSiSS Project – Comparing Resources for Subjects in Severe Situations (n. 2020-1-ES01-KA204-083103). This project formally started the 1st of September 2020 and has a duration of 36 months (end date 31.08.2023).

The CRxSiSS project provided a series of mobility flows for both educators and learners to exchange pedagogical approaches and educational resources on major international issues that will mark the political and educational agendas of many countries, such as active ageing, the digital divide and cybersecurity, the conservation of cultural heritage, rural abandonment, youth employability, sustainable development and public health. The partnership produced a final handbook for trainers, as a result of the exchange of the set of activities, which will highlight initiatives, resources and training materials created in projects financed by the European Union in the entities involved and other nearby institutions, as examples of good practice, with free access from the project website and other institutional repositories.

The CRxSiSS project aimed to promote, especially through meetings of teachers and courses for students of adult education programmes, and especially for older people, the exchange of experiences, good practices and content of interest on issues of great relevance in the whole of European society today.

Partners implemented a website and a Facebook page to promote the project and its results.

Local project dissemination events

As the CRxSiSS project draws to a close, the partners are starting to organize project dissemination sessions. These sessions aim to present the project at a local level, highlighting its objectives, results and overall impact.

In Portugal, for example, after presenting the CRxSiSS project, the IAFA Association challenged a group of young people to reflect on some of the project's central topics, such as active ageing, rural depopulation, youth employability and cybersecurity. Everyone had the opportunity to explore these themes, exchange ideas and prepare presentations that reflected the impact of the project. It was a very dynamic and stimulating session that gave a better understanding of the CRxSiSS project and its scope of action!

CRxSiSS Final Handbook

We are completing the final handbook from CRxSiSS, especially oriented to trainers, and elaborated from the exchange of experiences in each of the mobilities carried out. This work will show initiatives, resources and training materials created by the entities involved in the consortium, which can serve as an example of good practices. This document will be openly available through the project website and institutional repositories very soon!

Overview of partner's Dissemination activities

During the course of the project, partners implemented various activities (dissemination events, promotion) to disseminate the CRxSiSS project. Below are each partner's dissemination log and some pictures of the event that took place.
