

RESULTS

A final handbook oriented to trainers, elaborated from the exchange of experiences in each of the mobilities carried out. This work will show the initiatives, resources and training materials created by the entities involved in the project, as well as other institutions in their geographical environment, which can serve as an example of good practices. This document will be openly available through the project website and institutional repositories.

Local seminars, held after each of the mobilities, in order to amplify the benefits of these training actions, disseminating them to a wider public

A final event at the University of Malaga, as the coordinating institution of the project, which will have an international character, and to which those key agents linked to the project, such as educators of adults and elderly people or social services personnel, will be invited
